

MB2, MB2 - Wherefore Art Thou, MB2?

How to predictably locate and treat all canals in upper molars

Let's be real: Upper molars can be a nightmare....but they don't have to be! If you've ever found yourself spending too much time searching for an elusive canal (usually MB2) that you know is there but just can't find, you are not alone. But take heart and know that there is way to locate and treat all canals in upper molars, which will reduce your stress, make your patients and team happier, and perform more of these cases in your office. This course will teach you how to predictably locate and treat all canals (yes, all canals) in upper molars moving forward.

Tuesday, October 27, 2026
7-8:30 PM MST

On-line (Zoom)

LEARNING OBJECTIVES:

- Review of canal anatomy (and why it is important).
- Access design (and why it is important).
- Lighting and magnification.
- What you see in the chamber and how it will help you find the canals .
- What instruments are used to locate canals.
- How to clean and shape all canals to length and completion .
- What to do when your file stops short of length.
- When to consider single visit vs. multiple visits .

SCAN TO REGISTER

Dr. Tom Shackleton DDS, MS

Dr. Tom Shackleton has been providing endodontic services for the Calgary dental community for over 25 years. He earned his DDS from Northwestern University and his MS in oral medicine/orofacial pain from the University of Southern California and has held teaching positions at both the University of Alberta and University of New England, and currently is a Clinical Academic Colleague for the University of Alberta. He has published and lectured on endodontics and orofacial pain in Canada and the USA and was a regular contributor to the Canadian Dental Association Oasis project.

Passion Dental Group
Nationally Approved PACE Program
Provider for FAGD/MAGD credit.
Approval does not imply acceptance by any regulatory authority or ADG endorsement.
1/1/2026 to 12/31/2027
Provider ID# 436288